

Venezuela Situation

As of March 2019

Some 3.4 million Venezuelans are living abroad, over 2.7 million of whom have left their country since 2015. South America hosts 90 per cent of Venezuelans abroad.

Since 2014, some 408,500 asylum claims have been lodged by Venezuelans, over 248,000 in 2018 alone. While asylum systems are overwhelmed, over 7,100 have been recognized as refugees thus far.

With the support of receiving States and host communities, UNHCR continues to improve reception conditions, advocate for legal stay, identify protection risks and ensure access to basic services.

POPULATION OF CONCERN

Host Countries

* Source: Regional Inter-agency Coordination Platform, October 2018

 Caribbean sub-region includes data from: Aruba, Curaçao, the Dominican Republic, Guyana, Trinidad and Tobago; Southern Cone: Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Paraguay; Central America and Mexico: Costa Rica, Mexico, Panama.

FUNDING (AS OF 25 FEBRUARY 2019)

US$ 146.0 M

requested for the Venezuela situation

- Tightly earmarked
- Earmarked
- Softly earmarked (indicative allocation)
- Unearmarked (indicative allocation)
- Funding gap (indicative)

Overview

Growing numbers of people continue to leave Venezuela (the Bolivarian Republic of), for different reasons, including insecurity and violence, persecution and threats, food and medicine shortages, lack of access to social services, as well as loss of income.

Most governments in the region have shown commendable solidarity towards refugees and migrants from Venezuela (the Bolivarian Republic of), giving them access to territory, protection and assistance. However, host countries have become increasingly strained.

The Quito Declaration and Plan of Action mark a significant step forward in harmonizing policies and practices, scaling up and coordinating the humanitarian response and improving access and enjoyment of rights to refugees and migrants.

While some Venezuelans have obtained documentation which allows them to stay legally, the majority have no regular status, and are therefore more vulnerable to exploitation, abuse, violence, trafficking and discrimination.

Cúcuta, Colombia. A mother with her two sons crosses on foot the Simon Bolivar International Bridge into Colombia. ©UNHCR/Santiago Escobar-Jaramillo

UNHCR Response and Strategy

UNHCR has joined efforts with over 90 partners to establish a Regional Response Plan for Refugees and Migrants (RMRP), which serves as a strategic and operational blueprint, a coordination template, and a funding mechanism. The ultimate goal is the provision of protection and assistance to Venezuelans in need, irrespective of status.

Main Activities

In close collaboration with host governments, partner organizations, civil society, faith-based organizations and UN Agencies (in particular IOM), UNHCR undertakes the following activities:

Safe and dignified reception conditions and advocacy for legal stay

UNHCR has stepped up its presence in border areas across the region to improve reception conditions and respond to the basic needs of refugees and migrants from Venezuela (the Bolivarian Republic of), provide legal aid and counselling on access to refugee status and alternative forms of stay; and give technical assistance to relevant authorities to develop an effective coordination and prepare local response plans. New offices have opened in Peru and the Caribbean to respond to the increasing flow of Venezuelans.

Support government registration, profiling and protection monitoring

UNHCR is implementing profiling and protection monitoring exercises to better understand the needs and risks faced by Venezuelans and to provide a more tailored response. So far, over 10,000 people have been interviewed in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, Peru and Uruguay. In 2018, UNHCR supported the Government of Colombia's administrative registration of 442,462 individuals (235,575 families) from Venezuela (the Bolivarian Republic of) who were in an irregular situation. In Brazil, UNHCR supports the Government screening centres at the border in Pacaraima and Boa Vista, carrying out biometric registration, identifying and managing specific needs. UNHCR is also supporting the Governments of Aruba, Curacao Ecuador, Guyana, Peru and Trinidad and Tobago in developing registration.

Providing emergency/temporary shelter

In Brazil, UNHCR is supporting the Brazilian Government with site planning and provision of safe shelter to Venezuelans arriving in border cities. So far, 13 temporary shelters have been opened which are hosting over 6,000 Venezuelans. Tents, relief items and drinking fountains have been provided, as well as biometric registration, community mobilisation, information dissemination and site management. Emergency shelters in Costa Rica, Colombia, Peru and Ecuador have also received significant support.

Direct humanitarian assistance to meet basic needs

UNHCR has distributed drinking water, hygiene and dignity kits, blankets and snacks to refugees and migrants at the main border points, as well as cash-based assistance to vulnerable Venezuelans in Mexico, Brazil, Ecuador, Peru and Colombia. In terms of health, UNHCR has established referral pathways with hospitals in Lima, Peru and built a primary health centre in Cucuta, Colombia. As a strategy for socioeconomic integration, UNHCR has supported the voluntary relocation of Venezuelans from border areas in Brazil to other cities with wider employment opportunities and services. Since early April, when this initiative started, over 4,000 Venezuelans have been relocated. UNHCR also supports language classes and skills trainings.

Protection interventions in main hosting areas

In an effort to prevent and mitigate Sexual and Gender-Based Violence (SGBV) and trafficking, UNHCR and its partners have established Protection and Support Networks throughout the region including inside Venezuela (the Bolivarian Republic of). These offer short-term shelter, safety, specialized services and humanitarian assistance. UNHCR has also installed child-friendly spaces and spaces for lactating mothers at border crossing points and is advocating with host Governments to facilitate access to education for Venezuelan children. UNHCR has established networks of outreach volunteers in Brazil and Trinidad and Tobago to improve our linkage with the communities and ensure two-way communication and accountability, while working with different population groups, including women, children, older people, youth, persons with disabilities, indigenous and LGBTI groups. In addition, UNHCR is coordinating with partners the establishment of a regional Support Spaces initiative to ensure refugees and migrants receive updated and reliable information and a minimum package of services in key locations.

Campaigns against xenophobia

In an effort to curb growing xenophobia against Venezuelans and promote solidarity with them, UNHCR in collaboration with several partners has launched a number of campaigns. In 2018, Panama launched the "Somos lo Mismo" campaign, Peru launched "Tu Causa Es Mi Causa", Costa Rica launched the "Países Hermanos" campaign and UNHCR Colombia celebrated the first anniversary of "Somos Panas Colombia". A regional anti-xenophobia campaign will be launched in 2019. National anti-xenophobia campaigns will also be launched in Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

Working with partners

The Regional Inter-Agency Coordination Platform and the national coordination platforms, co-led by UNHCR at regional and national levels, work very closely with the UN Sustainable Development Group for Latin America and the Caribbean (UNSDG LAC), the Resident Coordinators and the UN Country Teams. Currently, the Regional Platform has 40 participants, including 17 UN agencies, 14 non-governmental organizations (NGOs), five donors and two international financial institutions, as well as the Red Cross Movement.

For more information: Olga Sarrado Mur, Communication and Public Information Officer, sarrado@unhcr.org, Cell +57 310 202 6029

For more information visit: Venezuela Data Portal