UNHCR and partners began to assist the voluntary repatriation of Burundian refugees in August 2017 as a durable solution for those refugees who indicate a desire to return home. The vast majority of returns have been from Tanzania, with smaller numbers assisted to return from Kenya and the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC). Almost all returns from Rwanda and Uganda have so far been self-organized.

KEY MESSAGES

1. UNHCR and partners are providing assistance to refugees who have decided to return to Burundi so that they may do so in safety and dignity, and to support social cohesion and sustainable return at the community level.

2. Funding is needed to address critical staffing shortages, increase the capacity of transit centers, continue to hire safe transportation, enhance the initial return package, expand and improve the returnee monitoring framework, and support sustainable reintegration.

3. The voluntary return operation from Tanzania to Burundi is taking place under the framework of a Tripartite agreement between the two governments and UNHCR in which all parties have agreed to ensure the voluntariness of return, as well as the need to continue to provide international protection to Burundians who have well-founded reasons for not returning at the present time.

4. While the governments of Burundi and Tanzania have undertaken to promote refugee return, neither UNHCR nor other governments are doing so at this time. All have acknowledged the importance of refugees having the opportunity to make a free and informed choice about repatriation.

5. While returnees are generally being welcomed back by the Government of Burundi and their communities of origin without incident, returnee monitoring indicates many do face a number of challenges to re-establish their lives and livelihoods in Burundi.

* - Includes assisted returns from Tanzania (57,867), Kenya (586), DRC (88), Uganda (2), Gabon (1), Cameroon (1) and Burkina Faso (1)
RETURN MONITORING IN BURUNDI

METHODOLOGY
In Burundi, UNHCR in partnership with Caritas is conducting household level interviews with refugee returnees coming back through the organized voluntary repatriation. Returnee monitoring aims to understand the situation that returnees are experiencing in their areas of return, namely access to basic support services and relevant rights and entitlements (housing, land, health, education, administrative documentation including identity cards and birth certificates, water and sanitation, nutrition), vulnerabilities, living conditions, and impact of the assistance provided upon arrival. Due to underfunding and capacity constraints, most returnee families are currently being visited by monitors only once within the first three months after their arrival in Burundi.

MONITORING PROGRESS
By 31 December 2018, 16,000 families have been monitored (out of 19,233), which represents 83% of those assisted to return.
